The First Thanksgiving

On the fourth Thursday of November, people in the United States celebrate Thanksgiving, a national holiday honoring the early settlers and Native Americans who came together to have a historic harvest feast.

One day that fall, four settlers were sent to hunt for food for a harvest celebration. The Wampanoag heard gunshots and alerted their leader, Massasoit, who thought the English might be preparing for war. Massasoit visited the English settlement with 90 of his men to see if the war rumor was true.

Soon after their visit, the Native Americans realized that the English were only hunting for the harvest celebration. Massasoit sent some of his own men to hunt deer for the feast and for three days, the English and native men, women, and children ate together. The meal consisted of deer, corn, shellfish, and roasted meat, different from today's traditional Thanksgiving feast. They played ball games, sang, and danced.

Although prayers and thanks were probably offered at the 1621 harvest gathering, the first recorded religious Thanksgiving Day in Plymouth happened two years later in 1623. On this occasion, the colonists gave thanks to God for rain after a two-month drought.

The peace between the Native Americans and settlers lasted for only a generation. The Wampanoag people do not share in the popular reverence for the traditional New England Thanksgiving. For them, the holiday is a reminder of betrayal and bloodshed. Since 1970, many native people have gathered at the statue of Massasoit in Plymouth, Massachusetts, each Thanksgiving Day to remember their ancestors and the strength of the Wampanoag.

In the 19th century, the modern Thanksgiving holiday started to take shape. In 1846, Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of a magazine called Godey's Lady's Book, campaigned for an annual national thanksgiving holiday. But it wasn't until 1863, when President Abraham Lincoln declared two national Thanksgivings; one in August to commemorate the Battle of Gettysburg during the Civil War, and the other in November to give thanks for "general blessings." It's the second one that we celebrate today.

Resident of the Month November 2024

Pat Watts was born November 13th in Monkton, MD. She graduated from Towson High School in 1955. It was there that she met her husband, Edward, and they married in 1956. Together they had three children. Today Pat has seven grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren as well!

After graduating from high school, Pat went to work at the office of Hutzler's Department Store. She later worked as receptionist at a dental practice, and later at a broker's office where she worked for about ten years. Pat also volunteered for the Baltimore County Department of Aging, as well as at the Cockeysville Library.

Pat loves to read, particularly fiction and murder mysteries. When she lived in the cottages, she led the Cottagers Book Club. Pat moved to Zimmerman Place in December of 2022, and we couldn't be happier to have her here. When you see Pat around, be sure to say, "Hello!", you will be glad you did!
